In spite of his lean, hungry days as a boy, Ephraim grew to manhood as a respected, loved member of the community. He was noted for his honesty, sweetness, courage and sense of humor.

To Ephraim and Laura Mohlman were born eight children:

Lloyd B., married Olive Terry;
Glenn E., married Florence Carter;
Vera May, married Gordon Hauson;
Orson Delbert, married Jeannette Maxwell;
John Willard, married Cleo Allen;
Frank Ray, married Venice Lundberg;
Farrell Jay, married Nedra Todd;
Grant, died in infancy;

Ephraim Mohlman died September 24, 1950, at Roosevelt, and Laura B. Mohlman died December 27, 1959, at Spanish Fork. Both are buried in Midway.

JOHN GERD AND ANNA CAROLINE GALLI MOHLMAN

John Gerd Mohlman was born February 12, 1825. He came to Utah as a US soldier in Johnston's Army and lived in the Cedar Fort area. When the Army disbanded and returned East, John remained in Utah, joined the LDS Church and married a Mormon girl, Anna Caroline Galli. She was born December 23, 1844.

They lived first at Cedar Fort, and then came to Midway in 1871. Three of their children were born at Cedar Fort and four at Midway. Their family included:

Emily Luella, married Ernest Daniels and later Alf Thomas;
Caroline Louise, married Giles Wood;
John Jr., died in infancy;
Orson Horisho, married Clara Decker;
Ephraim Manassah, married Laura Bircumshaw;

Alice Magdeline, married Frank Dudler;
Ada Emelia, married Frank Epperson.

John Gerd Mohlman died September 12, 1881, leaving his wife with a very young family to rear. He was buried in the old Midway Cemetery. Anna lived in Midway until her death December 21, 1911.

JOHN EDWIN AND ELLEN BAKER MORTON

John Edwin Morton, son of John Morton and Fanny Wardle Morton. Born June 5, 1873, in Midway. Married Ellen Malvina

Baker June 29, 1892. Died March 5, 1933, Salt Lake City.

Ellen Malvina Baker, daughter of George T. and Ellen Maria Wagstaff Baker. Born June 29, 1872, in American Fork. Married John Edwin Morton, June 2, 1892. Married Alma Wagstaff October 26, 1938. Married John Price August 18, 1943.

She died October 4, 1953, in Charleston. Buried in Kaysville.

John Edwin Morton and Ellen Malvina Baker had 11 children. Hugh lived to be 10 years old and drowned. Ruth and Sharon lived to maturity. Eight babies died in infancy.

John Edwin's mother died March 20, 1883, when John Edwin was about nine years of age. She left two children, John Edwin and Lucretia a little older. John Morton and his mother, grandmother to the children, took care of them and sent them to school. Eddie as he was called was a very bright student. Attewall Wootton who was principal of the school recognized that he was an exceptional student and helped him all he could. Lucretia got married quite young to Robert Krebs and Eddie attended the academy in Heber, and prepared himself to teach school. He taught in Buysville, now Daniels Ward. He had a very good friend, Charles Wahlquist, who would advise him. When he was over nineteen years of age he married Ellen Malvina Baker in the Manti Temple on the 29th day of June, 1892. After they were married they lived in Charleston and he worked in Nile Murdock's store for a while and taught school in Charleston. On April 16, 1893, their first baby, a little boy, was born but died at birth. They rented a farm from John Ritchie but the river got high and washed it out. He continued to teach school hoping to get means enough to go and study to be a doctor. He bought a little brick house on the road to Midway. He had a little barn on the place with some machinery and hay and it got burned down. On the 6th of November 1895, a little girl was born to them but also died at birth. He continued to teach school and do other work to get means to go to school in California. On the 24th of December 1897, a little boy was born to them. They called him Hugh, a comfort and blessing to the whole family. In 1898 they sold their home and furniture and John Edwin prepared to go to school. He took his wife and baby and went to San Francisco to study where they stayed for several years. Dacy Baker and Theodore Miller also went with them. After Eddie graduated they came to Heber City where he practised medicine for several years and two baby boys were born but died at birth.

About 1906, they moved to Kaysville, where he was very successful as a doctor and built a hospital. They had three children while living there. Inez Ladacy who lived a short time and passed away. Grant, a little boy who lived about three months and passed away and little Hugh their only living child was drowned in Kaysville reservoir at ten and one-half years old. Ruth was born later, December 19, 1917, and is still living. They became discouraged and moved to Roosevelt where he was quite successful as a doctor and built a hospital. Another little boy was born to them, John George, but died soon after birth. On July 21, 1917, Sharon was born and is still living. They moved back to Salt Lake City in 1928. Dr. Morton was very bright and studied astrology and drew many maps. He accomplished a great deal in his short life. He died at the age of 56, in Salt Lake City.

Ellen Malvina Baker Morton was born in American Fork. When she was about three years old she went with her parents to Circle Valley in Southern Utah. They lived there for about three years. Then they moved back to American Fork. She went to school there and Brother Joseph Forbes was her teacher. She was good at reciting. She learned a piece "I'll be a Farmer's Wife" and recited in the Sunday School Anniversary for which she received a prize from the General Authority who was present. In about 1884, she moved with her parents to Charleston where she went to school. She was a very good student, especially in spelling. When she finished grade school she attended the University of Deseret. After which she taught school in Charleston. She married John Edwin Morton and they lived in Charleston for several years. While in Roosevelt Ellen M. Morton was president of the Primary. She was also secretary of the Primary in Charleston. They moved back to Salt Lake City in 1928. Dr. Morton passed away March 5, 1933 in Salt Lake City. On October 26, 1938, Mrs. Morton married Alma Wagstaff and on November 4, 1938, he was killed in an automobile accident and she received a broken leg and other injuries. August 18, 1943, she married John Price. He died. Ellen Malvina Morton died October 4, 1953, in Charleston and was buried in Kaysville.

JOHN MORTON, JR. AND MARIA WATKINS MORTON

John Morton was born April 26, 1851, in Stirlingshire, England, the son of John Morton and Margaret Cunningham.

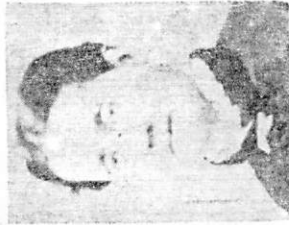

When he was six years of age, he, with his parents, brother Allen, and sister Mary, emigrated to the United States. They sailed on the ship, Tuscarora. They reached Philadelphia on July 3, 1857, five weeks after setting sail. From there they went to Maryland, where they remained for a year. In 1858 they moved to Pennsylvania and stayed for five years. The Civil War made it necessary for all able-bodied men to work, so young John, only ten years of age, went to the coal mines with his father and Allen and worked hard as a miner for two years.

In May 1863, the family started for Utah, going to St. Joseph, Missouri, by railroad and then by steamboat up the Missouri River to Florence, where they met the ox train waiting to take the Saints to Utah. In crossing the plains John walked most of the way. The family first settled in Franklin, Cache

THE PROFESSIONS

Men of professional training have been influential in the growth and development of Heber City and deserve mention in this section. Their complete histories are included in the biographical sketches at the end of this section.

Medical doctors who practiced in the valley have included Dr. D. Moore Lindsay, Dr. J. W. Aird, Dr. Bert A. Dannenberg, Dr. J. Edwin Morton, Dr. W. R. Wherritt, Dr. H. Ray Hatch, Dr. T. A. Dannenberg, Dr. Karl O. Nielson, Dr. Willard Draper, Dr. Robert R. Green, Dr. J. Fred Bushnell, Dr. E. G. Wright, Dr. Jack Boggess and Dr. Ross E. Jensen.

Valley, Idaho. Here John and his sister, Mary, were baptized.

John's uncle, Robert Cunningham, who was living in Provo Valley, wrote to the Morton family and urged them to come to him and he could help them secure land. So three months later they settled in the Upper Settlement of Provo Valley.

In 1866 John joined Ira Jacob's company in the Home Guard of the Black Hawk War.

On June 16, 1872, he married Fanny Lucretia Wardle, daughter of George Wardle and Fanny Rushton. For five years John and his family lived in Glenwood, Sevier County. They returned to Midway in 1878. On March 20, 1883, his beloved wife died. To them had been born two children, John Edwin and Fanny Lucretia. John Edwin married Lavina Baker. He was a doctor and spent part of his young life in Provo Valley. Fanny Lucretia married Robert Krebs.

In 1885 Mr. Morton received a call from John Taylor to go on a mission to the Southern States with only six days in which to get ready. He was ordained a Seventy on April 13, 1885, and set apart for his mission the same day. Ten Elders left Salt Lake City together for the Southern States Mission, and two years later they all returned together.

At Quarterly Conference in Heber on May 12, 1877, the 96th Quorum of Seventies was organized. Brother Morton was set apart as one of the presidents. He held that position until 1909, when he moved his family to Kaysville, Utah. In Kaysville he served as a Stake missionary.

In May, 1888, he married Maria Watkins in the Logan Temple. To this union were born eight children.

Mr. Morton worked in the timber and did much to develop mining in Wasatch County. He died in Kaysville on April 20, 1920.

Maria Watkins was born in Midway October 30, 1870, to John and Harriet Steele Watkins. She was the seventh child of a family of thirteen children. Harriet Watkins, Maria's mother, died at the birth of her thirteenth child. Maria was only eleven years old, but she helped her father's third wife, Mary Ann Sawyer Watkins, to raise the little children.

Maria helped cook at her father's saw mill up Snake Creek Canyon. She early assumed the responsibilities of an adult. At the age of seventeen, on the sixteenth of May, 1888, she married John Morton Jr., in the Logan Temple. They made their home in Midway, and became the parents of eight children:

Robert Cunningham, died in youth;
Effie Ophelia, married Heber Murdock;
Sterling, married Ivy Isabella Smith;
Basil Wallace, married Emma Lou Knothe;
Bernard, married Mattie A. Hamblin;
Maynard, died in infancy;
Alton Watkins, married Thelma Barlow;
Emery Llewellyn, married Dorothy Myrle Bywater.

In 1909 the family moved to Kaysville, Davis County. Mr. Morton died in 1920. Mrs. Morton took in boarders and managed a small lunch stand to help finance the education and bringing up of her children.

In 1936 she went to Midway to take care of her brother William and his wife, Mary Busby, who were both in very poor health. William died November 6, 1937, and Mary died July 8, 1939. Maria stayed with them until after their deaths. She was always kind and willing to help wherever she was needed. She did beautiful handiwork and gave it all away. She worked faithfully in the Church. She spent the last years of her life in Salt Lake with her daughter, Effie. She died November 4, 1948, in Salt Lake City.

CHRISTIAN MURRI, SR., AND MAGDALENA BALSIGER MURRI

Christian Murri Sr., son of Niklaus Murri and Barbara Strit Murri was born October 27, 1832, at Scherli, Bern, Switzerland.

Magdalena Balsiger, daughter of Christian Balsiger and Magdalena Schmid Balsiger, was born on November 12, 1831, at Zim-merwald, Switzerland.

They were married on August 13, 1857, and came to Midway in the fall of 1879.

In Scherli, Christian Sr. and his wife were the parents of twelve children. They were members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Their desire was to come to America to gather of the Swiss colonies. They were coming to Midway, because of the beautiful surroundings and beloved Swiss people.

In 1873, Christian Sr. came to Midway. He brought Adolph Christian and Niklaus Murri, his sons, and old Magdalena Murri, his wife, to Midway, America. They were the first Swiss family to come to Midway.

Two years later, in 1875, his eighteen-year-old son, Fred, came to Midway. Fred worked in the saw mill and sent back to Switzerland some carpenter work. Charles and Rosina, his children, also came to Midway in 1875.

After they came to Midway and other places, they settled above the Mill. They had a small dairy and some carpenter work. Magdalena showed her beautiful face.

The children were born in winter, and time. An infant was born shortly after the arrival of Christian Murri, Sr. Several other children were born of hay. One child, a son, died and was tipped over in his native town. He was drowned. My child died and they buried him.

In the spring of 1879, they moved to their home in Wilford.

After their move, which they called the Murri, who also took sick. So
